PRIVACY POLICY

THE BEAST Powered by: SYMBIOTE

In connection with the GDPR in force since 25 May 2018, i.e. Regulation (EU) R2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation), we inform you about our Privacy Policy.

This document constitutes the implementation of the Administrator's information policy towards users of websites (pages), in particular the website /thehungrybeast.com (hereinafter referred to individually as the "Website") and other persons establishing contacts with the Administrator, in all aspects of processing and protection of personal data. We attach great importance to the protection, collection, processing and use of your personal data in accordance with applicable regulations.

The Administrator makes every effort to ensure that your information remains private. Therefore, we publish a document explaining the principles and method of collecting, processing and using information about users of the Service and Platform and other people whose personal data we process. Please read the document carefully to understand our privacy policy and how your personal data is used. We would like to inform you that we comply with all applicable legal provisions regarding data protection. We respect and protect your privacy, and we also assure you that we will answer all questions regarding data protection at any time and ensure the implementation of your rights. We therefore ask you to read the information below carefully.

Your personal data are processed on the basis of applicable legal provisions, in particular the European Parliament and Council Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (hereinafter referred to as the "Regulation" or "GDPR") and the Act of 10 May 2018 on the protection of personal data (hereinafter referred to as the "Act").

At the same time, we would like to emphasize that when we collect personal data from you through forms posted on the website, we always fulfill the information obligation in order to transparently inform you about the principles of processing your data.

1. Information regarding the Administrator and the collection of personal data. The scope and purposes of personal data processing.

The Administrator of the Website and the Administrator of your personal data within the meaning of Art. 4 point 7 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC is SYMBIOTE SPÓŁKA Z OGRANICZONĄ ODPOWIEDZIALNOŚCIĄ operating under the trade name "The Hungry Beast", with its registered office in Warsaw, at the address: Aleja Jana Pawła II 80/D26, 00-175 Warsaw, Poland, entered into the Register of Entrepreneurs of the National Court Register, maintained by the District Court for the capital city of Warsaw in Warsaw, 12th Commercial Division of the National Court Register, under the KRS number: 0000895818, with the Tax Identification Number (NIP): 7011031019, REGON number: 388792374, with the share capital PLN 8,000.00 covered in full.

Personal data is all information about a natural person identified or identifiable through one or more specific factors determining their physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity, including device IP, location data, online identifier and information collected through cookies and other similar technologies.

1.3.

The Administrator processes the personal data provided by you for the purposes necessary to:

a) Use of the Service and proper functioning of the Service,

b) contact via the Website or in any other way, communication, including sending commercial information, using contact forms, if they have been introduced (including for the purpose of asking a question and initiating cooperation),

c) concluding and performing a contract, including contracts for services provided electronically,

d) execution of contracts ,

e) your use of the possibility of cooperation with the Administrator or the Administrator's services or your use of the possibility of cooperation with entities cooperating with the Administrator or the services of such entities,

f) accounting and financial reporting, claims settlement,

g) for marketing and analytical purposes.

1.4.

Depending on the purpose, we may process the following information about you: name and surname, e-mail address, data contained in e-mail correspondence, residential address or other address, IP address, approximate location, content of comments/opinions added on the website (if such an option exists), e-mail address, e-mail, login, telephone number, company name, type of company activity, company address details and its registration data, and other personal data provided in the course of contact with the Administrator or in the course of using the Website, including those provided as part of the contact, as well as personal data collected via cookies, processed data allowing for the identification of the device you are using for the purposes of websites and mobile applications offered by the Administrator, such as IP address and MAC identifier.

Moreover, in certain cases we may use tools that collect a number of information about you related to the use of our website. This includes, in particular, the following information: information about your device, operating system and web browser, user ID, IP address subject to shortening and anonymization, date of visit to the website, subpages viewed, time spent on the website, transitions between individual subpages, mouse clicks or touches on the screen, clicks on individual links, the source from which you go to the website, the age range in which you are located, your gender, your approximate location limited to the town, your interests determined on the basis of your online activity. This information is referred to in the further part of this privacy policy as "Anonymous Information".

Anonymous Information itself does not, in our opinion, constitute personal data, as it does not allow us to identify you and we do not compare it with the typical personal data we collect about you. However, taking into account the strict case law of the Court of Justice of the European Union and the divided opinions among lawyers, as a precaution, in case Anonymous Information is attributed the nature of personal data, we have also included in this privacy policy detailed explanations regarding the processing of this information.

Because Anonymous Information is collected by external tools that we use, Anonymous Information is also processed by tool providers under the terms of their terms and conditions and privacy policies. Anonymous Information is also used by individual tool providers to provide and improve services, manage them, develop new services, measure advertising effectiveness, protect against fraud and abuse, and personalize content and advertising displayed on individual services, sites, and applications.

In the case of concluding a contract, the provision of personal data is necessary for the performance of the contract, which also applies to the contract for the provision of services by electronic means.

1.9.

In the event that data processing is optional, the data will be processed on the basis of consent, which will result from the content of the consent granted. Data may also be processed on the basis of the legitimate interest of the Administrator. The scope of the processed data depends in particular on the completed form and the service or form of contact that you use. The Administrator may apply different levels of consent, which determine the scope of the processed data, as well as the method and purposes of processing.

In order to ensure that you use the website in the most effective way possible, to adjust its content and to be able to offer you an offer that is most tailored to your needs, we will process data in the form of:
- cookie files;
- date and time of your visit to the website;
- the properties of your device, in particular the operating system, web browser and browser window size;
- IP address of your device;
- device identifiers, which consist of the individual characteristics of your mobile device. Device identifiers allow us to recognize your device on our website.

1.11.

The Service performs the functions of obtaining information and personal data about users and their behavior also by saving cookie files (so-called "cookies") in end devices. The Administrator uses the information contained in cookies to improve the functioning of the Service. They provide data on the activity of users on the Service. The use of cookies is based on your consent. You can disable cookies at any time by changing the settings in your browser. The terms of use are specified in the Cookies Policy.

Using the service involves sending queries to the server where the page is stored. Each query sent to the server is saved in the server logs. The logs include, among others, your IP address, server date and time, information about the web browser and operating system you are using. The logs are saved and stored on the server. The data saved in the server logs is not associated with specific people using the page and is not used by us to identify you. The server logs are only auxiliary material used to administer the page, and their content is not disclosed to anyone other than those authorized to administer the server.

We are entrepreneurs and we constantly strive to improve the products and tools we use to develop our business. That is why we try to ensure that our websites are designed in the best possible way and that as many people as possible interested in working with us visit us. To improve the quality of the website, we use tools commonly referred to as "trackers". They allow us to monitor the effectiveness of network offers. Thanks to them, we can collect data such as:
- information on what links online users use to reach the site,
- information about when and how often you visited our website,
- information about what information is being searched for,
- which links or offers are opened on our site (if applicable).

Based on the above information, we create statistics that help make the website more attractive and better tailored to the needs and preferences of visitors.

We do not create user profiles. Using these tools does not automatically identify individuals and we never use them to identify visitors to our site.

Processing is carried out on the basis of:
a) Art. 6 sec. 1 letter b) of the Regulation - in the scope of personal data necessary for the performance of the contract, as well as in the scope of personal data provided by you in order to take action at your request before concluding the contract, e.g. for the purpose of contact before concluding the contract, answering questions, communication, etc.
b) Art. 6 sec. 1 letter c) of the Regulation - in the scope of personal data, the processing of which is necessary to fulfil the legal obligation incumbent on the Controller, e.g. for the purpose of issuing invoices, as well as for the purposes of accounting and financial reporting,
c) Art. 6 sec. 1 letter f) of the Regulation - in the scope of personal data, the processing of which is necessary for the purposes resulting from the legitimate interests pursued by the Administrator, i.e. for the purposes of: sending commercial information, direct marketing, detecting and preventing abuse, assessing payment credibility, statistical analyses as well as pursuing claims or defending against claims.
d) Art. 6 sec. 1 letter f) of the Regulation - in the scope of personal data, the processing of which is necessary for the purposes resulting from legitimate interests pursued by third parties, i.e. entities cooperating with the Controller within the business cluster, including affiliated entities, for the purposes of your use of the possibility of cooperation with entities cooperating with the Controller or the services of these entities;
e) Art. 6 sec. 1 letter a) of the Regulation – in the event of consent, if data processing is optional.
f) in the case of using cookies, the legal basis for processing will be your consent (Article 6, paragraph 1, letter a of the Regulation, in connection with Article 172 of the Telecommunications Law)
The detailed purposes and basis for processing your personal data are listed in Annex 1 to this privacy policy.

1.15.

With respect to your personal data, the Administrator does not make automated decisions or decisions resulting from automated processing, including profiling within the meaning of the Regulation. We do not make decisions about you based solely on automated processing, including profiling, that would produce legal effects for you or significantly affect you in a similar way. We use tools that can take specific actions depending on the information collected through tracking mechanisms, but we believe that these actions do not have a significant impact on you because they do not differentiate your situation as a customer, do not affect the terms of the contract you may enter into with us, etc. By using certain tools, we can, for example, target you with personalized ads based on your previous actions on the site or suggest products that may interest you. This is called behavioral advertising. We encourage you to learn more about behavioral advertising, especially privacy issues. Detailed information, including the ability to manage settings for behavioral advertising, can be found here. We emphasize that within the tools I use, I only have access to Anonymous Information. This information is stored on the servers of the providers of individual tools, and these servers can most often be located all over the world. We also use advertising tools, within which we can direct advertisements to specific target groups defined based on various criteria such as age, gender, interests, profession, work, actions previously undertaken within our site.

The Administrator stores your personal data only for the period necessary to perform the contract, including pursuing claims and maintaining compliance with the requirements resulting from applicable regulations, including tax regulations, as well as for the time necessary for other purposes of processing indicated in this Privacy Policy. In the case of personal data processed on the basis of your consent, the Administrator stores the personal data provided for the period necessary for the purpose of processing or until the consent is withdrawn. After these periods, your personal data will be deleted.

The source of obtaining data is, as a rule, its provision by the data subject. In most cases, you provide it to us yourself. This happens, for example, when:
a) you contact us via e-mail, telephone, contact form,
b) you follow our social media profiles or interact with the content we publish on social media.

1.18.

In addition, some information about you may be automatically collected by the tools we use:
the Service mechanism collects your IP address external tools listed in Annex 2 to this privacy policy collect Anonymous Information related to your actions taken within the Service.

2. The rights of data subjects

2.1.

You have the right to obtain from the Administrator confirmation as to whether he processes your personal data, the right to request access to this data and the right to obtain from the Administrator information regarding the purposes of processing and the categories of personal data being processed, information on the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data are disclosed, the planned period of storage of personal data, the source of the data in the event that they were not collected from the person to whom they relate and information as to whether the Administrator makes automated decisions towards the data subject, including, among others, based on profiling. You also have the right to obtain a copy of the data.

In addition, you have the right to request the rectification of personal data, the right to request the deletion of personal data, the right to request the restriction of processing, the right to transfer data and the right to object to processing. You can exercise these rights:
a) in relation to the request for rectification of data: when your data is incorrect or incomplete;
b) in relation to the request to delete data: when your data is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was collected by the Controller; you withdraw your consent to the processing of data; you object to the processing of your data; your data is processed unlawfully; the data should be deleted in order to fulfil an obligation arising from a legal provision or the data was collected in connection with the offering of information society services;
c) in relation to the request to limit the processing of data: when your data is incorrect - you may request the restriction of its processing for a period allowing the Administrator to check the accuracy of this data; the processing of your data is unlawful, but you do not want it to be deleted; the Administrator will no longer need your data, but you will need it to establish, pursue or defend claims; or you have objected to the processing of the data - until it is determined whether the legitimate grounds on the part of the Administrator override the grounds for the objection;
d) in relation to a request for data transfer: when the processing of your data takes place on the basis of consent granted or a contract and when such processing takes place by automated means;
e) in relation to the right to object: when the processing of your personal data takes place on the basis of a legitimate interest and the objection is justified due to your particular situation, and when your personal data are processed for the purposes of direct marketing, including profiling.

2.3.

You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority if you believe that the processing of your personal data violates the provisions of the Regulation. In Poland, the supervisory authority is the President of the Personal Data Protection Office (ul. Stawki 2, 00-193 Warsaw).

2.4.

The security procedures we have in place mean that before we exercise your rights, we may ask you to confirm your identity.

3. Consent for personal data processing

3.1.

In the event that data processing is optional, e.g. if the Administrator processes personal data that are not necessary for the performance of a service or contract, the provision of such data by you is always voluntary, after you have previously expressed your consent to the processing of the data provided. Consent may also include the transfer of your data by the Administrator to other entities.

3.2.

Consent is given after reading this Privacy Policy. In such a case, you consent to the collection and processing by the Administrator of the personal data provided by you for the purpose expressly indicated when giving consent, in the manner specified in the consent, e.g. by checking the appropriate box.

3.3.

You may withdraw your consent at any time, in particular by sending a declaration of withdrawal of consent to the Administrator in the manner indicated in point 6 of this Privacy Policy.

3.4.

Withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.

4. Information on personal data recipients/categories of personal data recipients

4.1.

The Administrator may also partially use external service providers who process personal data on behalf of the Administrator, e.g. hosting service providers, e-mail service providers, entities technically implementing certain services, service administrators - for example, payment services, server maintenance services, technical maintenance services for the Service or other entities with which the Administrator cooperates in this respect, which in particular applies to the Administrator's staff and subcontractors and entities providing services to the Administrator. However, the transfer of data may only serve to implement their service. The Administrator only uses the services of such entities who provide sufficient guarantees for the protection of the rights of data subjects. If the entities in question are not independent administrators or do not act on the basis of authorizations within the Administrator's structure, the processing of personal data by these entities takes place on the basis of written agreements concluded with the Administrator. These entities comply with the Administrator's guidelines and are subject to audits conducted by him.

4.2.

External service providers involved in the processing of your personal data are:
a) hosting provider that stores data on the server;
b) cloud software providers where data is processed;
c) the accounting office that processes your data visible on invoices;
d) an entity providing technical support services that obtains access to the data if the technical work carried out concerns areas in which personal data are located;
e) other subcontractors who gain access to data if the scope of their activities requires such access;
f) other entities cooperating with the Administrator for the purposes of performing the contract or cooperation, fulfilling obligations arising from legal provisions or other purposes for which the Administrator may process your data;
g) the Administrator's contractors and their subcontractors, provided that your data is necessary for the performance of the contract or other cooperation between the Administrator and the above entities. In the absence of such necessity, the Administrator's contractors will not be recipients of the data;
h) the Administrator's clients, provided that your data is necessary for the performance of the contract between the administrator and the above entities. In the absence of such necessity, the Administrator's clients will not be recipients of the data;
i) authorities entitled to receive data under legal provisions;
j) entities belonging to the same capital group with the Controller, e.g. subsidiaries and other related entities, in particular in the case of services provided by the Controller to them or by these entities to the Controller.

4.3.

All entities listed above process your data on the basis of personal data processing agreements concluded with us and guarantee an adequate level of personal data protection.

4.4.

If necessary, your data may be made available to a legal adviser or attorney bound by professional secrecy. The need may result from the need to use legal assistance requiring access to your personal data.

4.5.

Moreover, when it comes to Anonymous Information, it is accessed by providers of tools or plug-ins that collect Anonymous Information. The providers of these tools are independent administrators of the data collected in them and may share this data on the terms they define in their own regulations and privacy policies, over which I have no influence.

4.6.

The administrator may also have a fan page on the Facebook website. In this connection, data such as first and last name may be collected and then made available to the operator of the Facebook website, and in this case, the data is processed for the purpose of using the administrator's Facebook page and marketing with the help of Facebook. Our website may use social plugins from the social networking site Facebook.com, operated by Facebook Inc., 1601 S. California Ave, Palo Alto, CA 94304, USA ("Facebook"). The plugins are marked with the portal logo, its icon or the addition "Facebook Social Plugin". If the User opens a website that contains such a plugin, the browser creates a direct connection to the Facebook server. The content of the plugin is transmitted directly to the browser by Facebook.com and integrated into the website by it. We have no influence on the amount of data that Facebook collects using this plugin. If you are a Facebook member but do not want this portal to associate collected user data, you must make the appropriate settings on your Facebook account. This entity is responsible for granting access to your data that you have shared with Facebook and in case of doubt, you should contact this entity directly or make changes to your Facebook account settings.

The Administrator may also have accounts in other social networking sites, so personal data may be transferred to the operators of these sites to the extent necessary to use the Administrator's pages in these sites. The principles of data processing referred to in point 4.6, including those collected through cookies, also apply to other social networking sites used by the Administrator.

4.8.

Your data will not generally be transferred outside the EEA. However, exceptionally, in connection with the use of services of specific entities by the Administrator, data may be transferred outside the EEA, but only if the guarantee of ensuring an adequate level of protection is maintained, e.g. resulting from standard contractual clauses approved by the European Commission. Therefore, part of the processing of your personal data may involve their transfer to third countries - in such a case, we transfer your personal data to third countries in connection with the use of tools that store personal data on servers located in third countries, in particular in the USA. The providers of these tools guarantee an adequate level of protection of personal data through appropriate compliance mechanisms provided for by the GDPR, in particular through the use of standard contractual clauses.

Tools that may involve the transfer of data to third countries: hosting, CRM system, invoicing system, cloud.

4.10.

The following information may be transferred to third countries: user account data, order data, data contained in e-mail correspondence.

4.11.

We would also like to remind you that we use external tools that may collect Anonymous Information. The providers of these tools often use servers located around the world, in particular in the United States of America (USA), to store the collected information.

5. Security of personal data

5.1.

The Administrator processes your personal data in accordance with the provisions of the Regulation and the Act , including the use of appropriate technical and organizational measures to ensure the security and appropriate confidentiality and integrity of personal data, including protection against unauthorized access, unauthorized modification, disclosure or destruction of such data.

5.2.

We provide appropriate technical and organizational measures to ensure the security of personal data provided electronically and in writing, in particular to prevent third parties from accessing them or processing them in violation of the law, and to prevent data loss, damage or destruction.

6. Contact details. Final provisions

6.1.

Before using the Website, the user is obliged to read this Privacy Policy.

6.2.

This Privacy Policy does not apply to the rules for displaying third-party advertisements on the website (if applicable) - in this respect, we recommend that you read the Privacy Policies of the entities providing the advertisements.

6.3.

The Administrator has the right at any time to change this Privacy Policy by posting a new or amended version of this document on the Website. The Administrator also has the full right to make changes to the Website at any time, to discontinue providing the Website, to sell the Website to third parties.

6.4.

In matters not regulated by this Privacy Policy, the provisions of the Regulation and the Act shall apply.

6.5.

The Administrator has not appointed a Personal Data Protection Officer.

6.6.

Any requests, requests, notifications, inquiries regarding the processing of personal data may be sent by e-mail to the following address: feed@thehungrybeast.com or in writing to the following address: SYMBIOTE SPÓŁKA Z OGRANICZONĄ ODPOWIEDZIALNOŚCIĄ, Aleja Jana Pawła II 80/D26, 00-175 Warsaw.
